

JBI Sumari access

To sign into JBI Sumari

- 1)log into the Plymouth University intranet and access the Primo page via library
- 2)select 'visit Primo'

- 3) Select the Databases tab at the top

4) Select Joanna Briggs Institute

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying search results for 'J' on a library database website. The address bar shows 'plymouth.libguides.com/?a=j'. The page lists 6 databases found for 'J'. A large blue arrow points to the 'Joanna Briggs Institute (JBI) EBP Database' entry. The entry includes the following text:

Joanna Briggs Institute (JBI) EBP Database

Alternative Name(s) & Keywords: JBI CONnect+, Clinical Online Network of Evidence for Care and Therapeutics

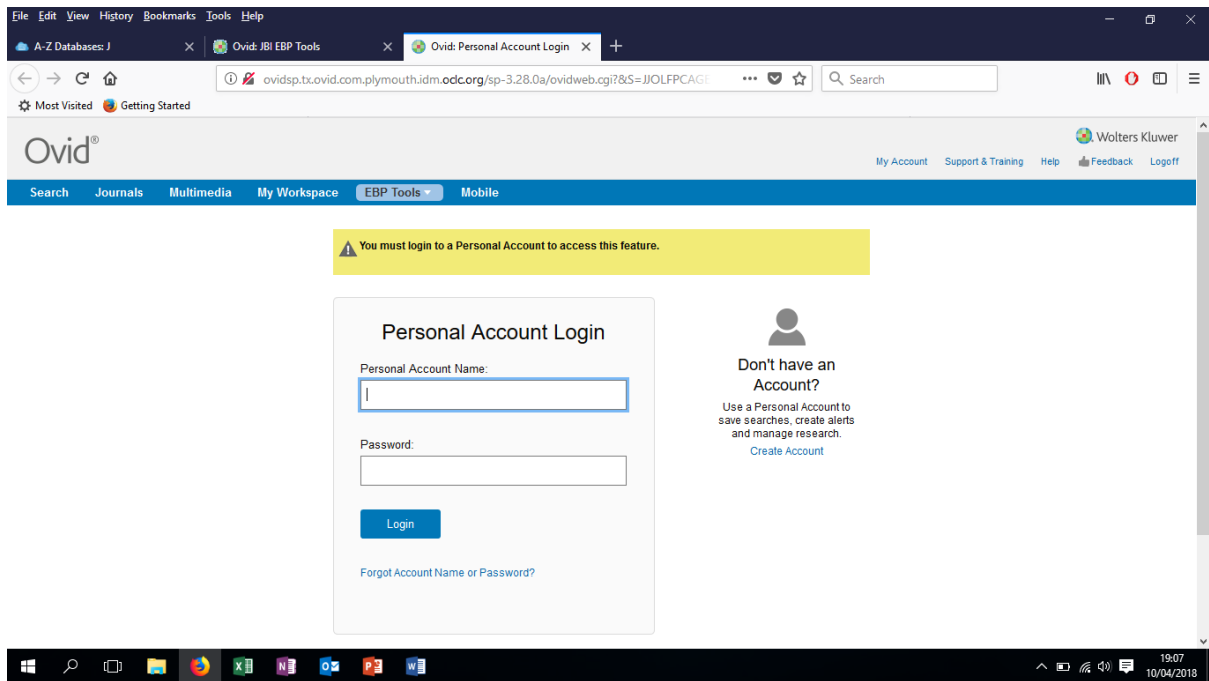

The Joanna Briggs Institute (JBI) is a leading provider of evidence-based health information offering content from across the globe and tools to help in the implementation of evidence at various points of health practice. Resource guide

Other databases listed include JISC Historical Texts, Jisc journal archives, John Johnson Collection, and Journal Citation Reports (JCR).

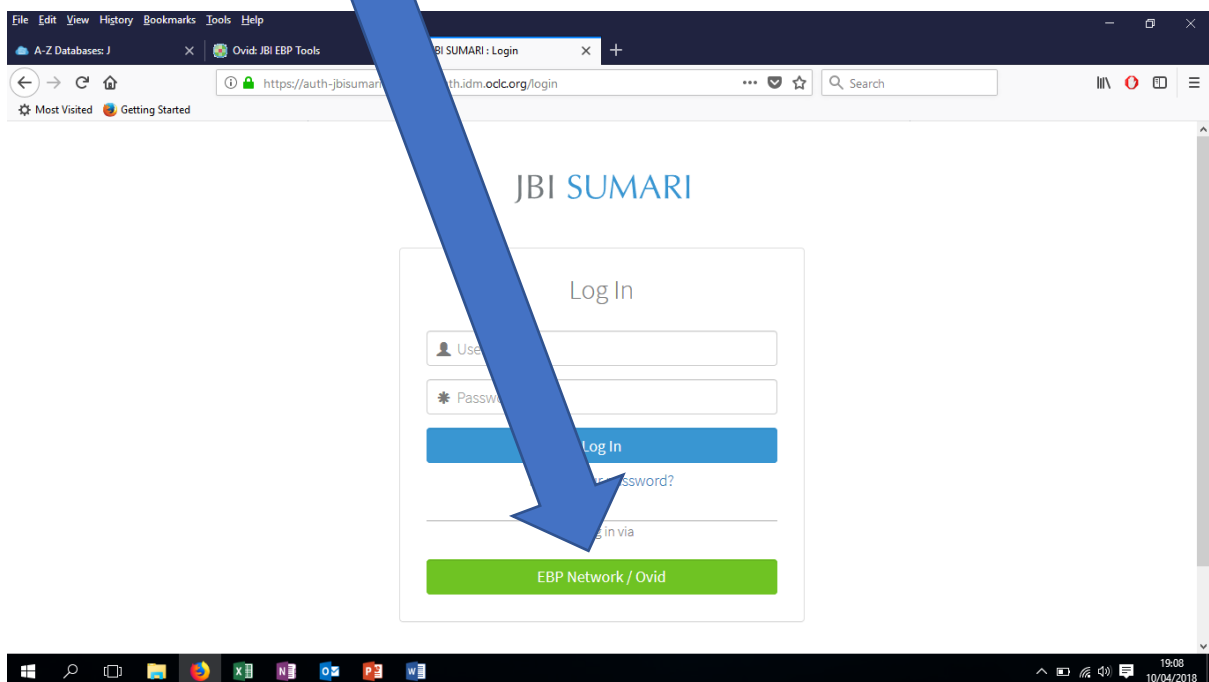

On the right side of the page, there are sections for 'Popular Databases' (with a message that none have been identified) and 'New Databases' (listing recently acquired resources like 'British Periodicals III & IV', 'Trench Journals and Unit Magazines of the First World War', and 'Women's Magazine Archive').

7) Sign in with your personal log in (you will need to create one first if not already done).

8) Select EBP Network/Ovid

9) This will get you to the JBI SUMARI page. (You will need to either create project or your existing project will come up)
