Important information regarding your results

You have not passed all of your modules.
You have been invited to repeat modules over the next academic year.

Please take a careful look at your transcript. There is a key to the codes used on the reverse.

A three-letter code beginning with F next to one or more modules indicates that you must repeat the module. The other two letters indicate whether the repeat is at the S same or N next attempt, and what needs to be repeated.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Your repeat will be regarded as:</th>
<th>Elements that must be repeated:</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>N – Next attempt</td>
<td>O – All elements</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S – Same attempt</td>
<td>S – Specified elements</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

An element is coursework, examination, practice, in-class test or pass/fail assessment.

Here are some examples:

FNO means that you must repeat all elements of the module with attendance over another academic year and this would be regarded as your next attempt.

FNS means that you must repeat the specified elements with attendance over another academic year and this would be regarded as your next attempt.
