UNIVERSITY OF PLYMOUTH

Important information regarding your results

You have not yet passed all of your modules.

You may progress to the next stage but must complete exceptional referral assessment.

Please take a careful look at your transcript. There is a key to the codes used on the reverse.

A three-letter code beginning with E next to one or more elements is a referral code which means you must complete further assessment in that element for the corresponding module. An element is coursework, examination, practice, in-class test or pass/fail assessment. The other two letters indicate whether the exceptional referral is as a S same or N next attempt and how the element will be reassessed.

Here are some examples:

ENC against coursework means that you have been referred in that coursework and must complete reassessment by coursework and this would be regarded as your next attempt.

ESC against coursework means that you have been referred in that coursework and must complete reassessment by coursework and this would be regarded as the same attempt.

Your referral work will be available on the module DLE site from Friday 25th September 2020, please ensure that you obtain this work as soon as possible. In the event of you failing your referral work, you may be unable to achieve your award. It is extremely important that you ensure that we receive your completed work by Thursday 10th December 2020.

If you are unsure of anything or think that you will not be able to complete your work on time, please contact your faculty urgently.

Results of your referral

The provisional result of your referral will be available in your online Statement of Results within 20 working days of the deadline. Your referral result and the results of the modules for the stage you are progressing on to will be confirmed when your results are published next July.
